Presentation

Professional with over 8 years of experience in developing digital solutions, working as a FullStack Developer with both technical and strategic expertise across all stages of the software development lifecycle. Throughout my career, I've delivered projects involving Back-End, Front-End, Mobile, Desktop, and DevOps, using modern technologies aligned with industry best practices. My role goes beyond just writing code: I have a strong product-oriented mindset, which enables me to deliver solutions that not only meet technical requirements but also create real business value, with a focus on usability, performance, scalability, and adherence to business rules. I have a collaborative profile, a systems-thinking approach, and a strong commitment to delivering high-impact results.

Work Experience

EarthLabs Inc

Senior Front-end Developer
August/2025 – current • Full time

Developing and continuously improving digital products for the mining sector using React, Next.js, Bootstrap, and SASS, with a strong focus on scalability, responsiveness, and performance. Responsible for the full front-end lifecycle, from design implementation to collaboration with UI/UX teams to deliver consistent and accessible user experiences. Also involved in maintaining and enhancing PHP/WordPress media websites and supporting .NET API integrations, ensuring seamless interoperability across platforms in an international, English-speaking environment.

Avenue Code

Mid-Level WordPress Developer
August/2024 – July/2025 • Full time

Worked as a Mid-level WordPress Developer for the client EarthLabs Inc., a Canadian company specializing in news and analysis of the mining market. My main responsibilities include developing and maintaining news websites, ensuring performance, security, and scalability, customizing themes and plugins, optimizing SEO and performance, as well as integrating with APIs and third-party services. This experience has allowed me to enhance my WordPress skills, deepen my knowledge of the global mining industry, and practice my English in a real-world setting.
